Practicing Prodependence

The Clinical Alternative to Codependency
Treatment

Robert Weiss and Kim Buck

In Practicing Prodependence Drs. Weiss and Buck present a new social and psychological model of human interdependence-focused treatment for families and loved ones of addicts. This strength and attachment-based model is focused on accepting and celebrating human connection in ways that are healthy and life affirming for each person. Prodependence presents a new paradigm through which loved ones can learn to love more effectively, without bearing shame or judgement. This title will assist counselors, therapists and addiction professionals in improving the ways they treat loved ones of addicts and other troubled people.
